

Hélène DUPUY, Director of OQUALIM

The Board of Directors is pleased to announce the appointment of Hélène DUPUY as Director of OQUALIM, since the 3rd August 2026.

With extensive experience in the fields of quality and food safety within the agri-food sector, Hélène DUPUY has joined OQUALIM to further develop the association's work in support of stakeholders in the animal feed sector.

Under the authority of the President and the Board of Directors, her mission will include implementing the association's strategy, managing its activities, and supporting the development of its mechanisms at national and European level. She will also ensure the animation of the work carried out within OQUALIM's bodies and working groups as well as the representation of the association with its partners and the various stakeholders in the feed sector.

This appointment is in line with the actions undertaken by OQUALIM to promote quality, feed safety and trust within the feed sector.

About OQUALIM

The association coordinates the collective approach by the French animal nutrition sector in terms of quality and feed safety of animal feed.

OQUALIM deploys three complementary missions at the service of companies in the feed sector: certification of animal feed factories, health and quality surveillance through pooled-self monitoring plans, as well as anticipation and management of health alerts.

Based on standards recognized at the French and European level, OQUALIM actively participates in strengthening stakeholder confidence, improving traceability and controlling health risks within the animal feed supply chain.
